February 2016

DEAR FRIENDS:

It's clear that many Jackson Holers love and use Teton County's comprehensive trail and pathway networks. How much residents use and appreciate these systems is finally quantifiable, thanks to funding from the LOR Foundation and with the help of Bozeman-based Headwaters Economics.

In a first of its kind survey last year, results revealed that 9-out-of-10 survey respondents use the trails and pathways in Teton County. That kind of utilization speaks volumes to community priorities for getting outside to enjoy our beautiful and wild surroundings.

You told us that the trails on Teton Pass and in Cache Creek add to your quality of life. Your gifts funded eight seasonal employees who removed over 200 trees from the trails after a giant spring wind-storm, put in 30 water bars on the Ski Lake Trail, and built a new separate use trail in the Cache Creek drainage.

You told us that pathways make it easier for you to move about Jackson. Your gifts supported a three-week Bike Share demonstration, cycling safety classes for hundreds of elementary students, and a complete pathway connection from Wilson to Jackson.

You told us that outdoor recreation and access to public lands inspire you to live in Jackson Hole. Your gifts helped with the Teton Pass and Cache Creek Ambassador programs, responsible recreation outreach, and advocacy for the approval of the Skyline Trail.

Undoubtedly, FOP's organizational successes are a direct result of your opinions, your time and your support. As reflected in our updated mission statement, Friends of Pathways' work will continue to support trails and pathways while also encouraging sustainable transportation in planning for Jackson's future.

With spring around the corner, we invite you to use the pathways, sidewalks and bike lanes as a place to not only recreate, but as a safe and convenient way to move around Teton County. And, we ask you to be a good steward of trails, pathways and our backyard public lands.

Greet your neighbors, follow management rules, and smile!
